The more I got involved in my dad’s farm business, the more I started seeing my responsibility to be a steward of the land to benefit the place, the soil, and the people I’m growing food for. I’m also learning that soil carbon sequestration can have a profound benefit to the environment.”

-Steven Cardoza

The California Climate & Agriculture Network (CalCAN) is a statewide coalition that advances state and federal policy to realize the powerful climate solutions offered by sustainable and organic agriculture.

calclimateag.org · 916.441.4042 · info@calclimateag.org